Name That Tune to be Held March 17 at The Tiger Hotel

COLUMBIA, Mo. – The Roots N Blues Foundation is holding their annual Name That Tune event, presented by Commerce Bank, on March 17, 2016 at The Tiger Hotel from 5:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The event benefits the Blues In The Schools program, giving students the opportunity to write and perform with award winning guest musicians. The other sponsors for the Name That Tune event include Macadoodles, The Tiger Hotel, Columbia Public Schools, KOMU TV-8, 102.3 BXR, The Columbia Daily Tribune, and Kilgore's Medical Pharmacy.

General tickets are $35 and include complementary wine, beer, and an appetizer feast. Tickets are available at missouribits.org and at the Name That Tune Facebook event page. A VIP table for 10 people is available for $795 and a reserved table for 10 people is available for $400. All proceeds go towards the Blues in the Schools program.

Eight teams compete over three rounds while ticketholders play along to name that tune. There are also live auction items at the event, including a signed, white Fender guitar from The 2015 Roots N Blues N BBQ Festival, a special VIP weekend at the 2016 festival, and tickets to see Here Come the Mummies at The Blue Note on March 24 with a night out.

"The power of Blues In The Schools is indisputable", says Tj Wheeler, a music educator for the program. "It's not only essential in creating young Blues enthusiasts, but in building character, pride in heritage, compassion, empathy..."
